Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Customer Service Representative I role at General Bank of Canada in Edmonton. I want a service career built on accurate account work, clear phone and email support, and calm problem-solving. At Best Buy I already handle high-volume customer interactions every day: clarifying the real issue, processing account updates carefully, documenting cleanly, and staying composed when someone is frustrated.

How I would support GBC customers:

- Handle inbound calls and emails professionally, aiming for clear first-contact resolution whenever policy allows
- Support payments, payouts, amendments, and related loan questions with careful listening and accurate follow-up
- Keep records clean so Credit and teammates can trust the file after each interaction
- Stay steady under volume, including reception backup when the team needs it

I do not yet have bank call-centre tenure, and I am ready to learn GBC systems and service standards quickly. What I bring now is proven high-volume service, documentation discipline, and a service-first mindset without a sales-quota focus. Resume attached; I am available for the Edmonton in-office role and excited about a path into financial services customer support.

Best regards,

Lillian Schule Zech
