Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Senior SEO Content Specialist (English) role at Odds Scanner Group (remote). I am based in Edmonton and available for flexible remote hours. At Lumin Marketing Group I own on-page SEO for 2 active SMB client accounts: keyword and gap research, titles/metatags/headings, internal linking, and content updates shaped to search intent, with GA4 and Google Search Console reporting that turns into prioritized next actions.

What I can own on English-language publications:

- Run keyword and gap analysis, then turn it into structured on-page briefs
- Optimize existing pages for rankings, CTR, and intent (titles, metatags, headings, internal links)
- Coordinate with technical and editorial partners so on-page work ships cleanly
- Use Claude and Claude Code for research and first drafts, with human review before publish

I am honest that my SEO ownership has been SMB and local service sites rather than iGaming or sports-betting publications. What transfers is on-page craft, search-intent discipline, and paced shipping. English is my native language. Resume attached; happy to walk through a recent on-page optimization and the reporting I used.

Best regards,

Dylan Michael
