Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Marketing Specialist role at Levven (Edmonton on-site). I live in south Edmonton and can work from your head office. At Lumin Marketing Group I own hands-on marketing for 2 active SMB accounts: concurrent campaign tracks, email/SMS nurture, website and landing-page updates, LinkedIn-first social, sales collateral, and clear reporting so stakeholders know what shipped and what to approve next.

How I would support Levven marketing:

- Run nurture and targeted campaign tracks end-to-end: audience, content, launch, measure, iterate
- Write trade and consumer copy for email, site resources, and sales-facing materials builders and contractors actually use
- Keep levven.com product and partner resources current; publish on LinkedIn first, then expand channels that earn the slot
- Brief freelancers cleanly and keep timelines honest; use Claude and Claude Code for research and drafts with human review before publish

I am honest that deep Odoo ownership and multi-year production-builder category marketing are still growing versus Levven's Switched Right motion; my current book is two SMB accounts rather than a national builder channel. What transfers is hands-on B2B campaign execution, clear briefs, conversion-minded reporting, and curiosity about how marketing automation is wired so the machine gets better over time. Confirming base compensation meets CAD $60,000. Resume attached.

Best regards,

Dylan Michael
