Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Paid Media Specialist (Meta) role (Jobgether partner posting, remote Canada). I live in Edmonton and am eligible to work in Canada. At Lumin Marketing Group I plan and run Meta Ads campaigns for 2 active SMB client accounts: audience structure, creative tests, budgets, and reporting that shows what to scale next. I also run Google Ads alongside Meta so creative and offer tests stay coordinated.

How I would support Meta paid performance:

- Build and optimize Meta campaigns with clear targeting, bidding, creative tests, and budget pacing
- Track CPL, ROAS, and conversion quality in Ads Manager and GA4; cut waste quickly
- Partner with design and content on hooks, formats, and landing-page alignment so ads and offer match
- Use Claude and Claude Code for research and draft copy angles, with human review before publish

I am honest that large-scale lookalike and retargeting books, Meta Blueprint certification, and pure performance-marketing agency depth are still growing compared with a dedicated Meta specialist bench; my book is SMB-agency rather than enterprise ecommerce only. What transfers is hands-on Meta and Google Ads ownership, paced testing, and clear reporting. I am targeting base pay at or above CAD $60,000. Resume attached.

Best regards,

Dylan Michael
