Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Client Success Manager - Digital Marketing role at MEDIAFORCE (remote, CAD $64,000 starting). At Lumin Marketing Group I own client relationships and delivery for 2 active SMB accounts, so I already sit between strategy, execution teams, and the people paying for results.

How I would support MEDIAFORCE clients:

- Act as the clear point of contact: goals, priorities, timelines, and honest status when something slips
- Translate SEO, paid, social, and web performance into plain-language recommendations clients can approve
- Keep CRM notes and follow-ups tidy in Go High Level so retention risks surface early
- Partner with specialists on deliverables while owning the client conversation and next-step roadmap
- Use Claude and Claude Code for research and drafting support, with human review before anything client-facing goes out

I am honest that my current book is smaller than a multi-office North American agency portfolio. What transfers is paced ownership, clear reporting, and comfort talking about SEO and paid outcomes without overselling. Resume attached.

Best regards,

Dylan Michael
