Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Marketing Account Manager role at Roveia Health / Roveir (fully remote, CAD $65,000--$95,000). At Lumin Marketing Group I am the primary owner for 2 active SMB client accounts, so I already sit between paid media, creative/ops work, and the people paying for results. I am Google Ads Certified and comfortable reading Meta and Google Ads performance without needing a media buyer in every client conversation.

How I would support Roveir and Roveia Health accounts:

- Own the client relationship: clear status, risks, and recommendations without waiting to be asked
- Interpret Meta and Google Ads performance and explain underperformance in plain language
- Keep launches and creative iterations moving by coordinating briefs, feedback, and next tests
- Connect paid results to landing-page messaging and CRM follow-up so acquisition is not orphaned after the click
- Use Claude and Claude Code for research and draft support, with human review before anything client-facing goes out

I am honest that multi-million ad-spend books, telehealth/GLP-1 patient-acquisition depth, and ClickUp agency tooling at Roveia scale are still growing versus my current two-account SMB book. What transfers is hands-on Google Ads and Meta ownership, client-facing performance narrative, and paced remote delivery. Resume attached.

Best regards,

Dylan Michael
