Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Go-to-Market (GTM) Automation Specialist I role at ZayZoon (remote Canada / U.S.). I live in Edmonton and am eligible to work in Canada. ZayZoon's focus on keeping a complex B2B2C lifecycle moving through clean workflows, data hygiene, and practical automation matches how I already work: build CRM follow-ups that fire reliably, document SOPs, and use AI to remove busywork without skipping human review. At Lumin Marketing Group I own Go High Level email/SMS automations and multi-channel delivery for 2 active SMB client accounts, and I use Claude and Claude Code to speed research and drafting.

How I would support ZayZoon GTM automation:

- Maintain and troubleshoot CRM workflows so partner and end-user touchpoints stay timely and accurate
- Keep data and documentation usable: clean fields, clear SOPs, and Sheets dashboards tied to next actions
- Support multi-channel programs (email/SMS and related channels) in partnership with Sales, Success, and Marketing
- Apply Claude and Claude Code to research, personalization drafts, and enrichment busywork, with human review before publish

I am honest that HubSpot-native RevOps depth and tools like Clay / Apollo are still growing versus a titled Revenue Operations background; my strongest automation book today is Go High Level plus Claude workflows rather than a large HubSpot B2B2C stack. What transfers is hands-on CRM automation, SOP discipline, cross-team delivery, curiosity about AI for everyday GTM tasks, and coachability under a Senior GTM Automation Specialist. Posted range CA$94k--CA$135k clears my CAD $60k floor. Resume attached.

Best regards,

Dylan Michael
