Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the SEO Strategist role at Small World Marketing (remote Canada, CAD $78,000). At Lumin Marketing Group I own SEO delivery for 2 active SMB client accounts across keyword research, on-page and technical hygiene, Google Business Profile / local work, and plain-language next-action notes. Your bias toward shipping fixes fast, not writing strategy decks that never land, matches how I already work.

How I would support Small World local-service clients:

- Own day-to-day SEO for a book of local clients: on-page, technical briefs, GBP / map pack, content briefs, and light off-page priorities
- Turn Search Console and rank data into a short action list, then brief AI and teammates so the work ships
- Spot stuck delivery early (missing access, thin content, Maps issues) and push it to done
- Prepare client-facing notes the founder can send with confidence; use Claude and Claude Code for speed, with human review before publish

I am honest that a larger concurrent local-service book and polished before/after ranking case PDFs are still growing versus my current two-account Lumin book plus Phantom Avenue local SEO ownership. What transfers is hands-on local SEO, GA4 / GSC literacy, AI-assisted shipping with human ownership of the final call, and calm client communication under pressure. CAD $78,000 and Pacific Time overlap work for me. Resume attached. Happy to send 2-3 work-sample links or walkthroughs on request.

Best regards,

Dylan Michael
